

Wynne Speaks of an Interesting Lecture at the Art Alliance Today and of the Wynnewood Pony Show Tomorrow

THIS afternoon there will be an interesting talk on "Italian Gardens" at the Art Alliance. Miss Emily Bailey, of the A. H. S., will be the speaker, and her descriptions will be illustrated with lantern slides. Among the hostesses will be Miss Eleanor Arnett, Mrs. E. D. Matfield, Mrs. Gideon Boerick, Miss Anna Whelan Betts, Mrs. Joseph C. Wright, Mrs. J. Crosby Brown, Miss Mary E. Converse, Mrs. E. Esley, Mrs. Henry Flagg, Mrs. John Gribbel, Mrs. Ernest C. Kite, Mrs. Howard W. Lewis, Miss Beatrice McGeorge, Mrs. Fredrick Parrish, Mrs. F. C. Rockwell, Mrs. Alexander B. Rogers, Mrs. Samuel W. Wetherill, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Wetherill, Jr.

There has been hearing more about the joint entertainment of The Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania Society of Colonial Dames of America, which is to be given on May 24 in commemoration of the Swedish Settlements on the Delaware, 1683-1694. (I thought I've got it right this time. It's a month, don't you think?) The meeting is to be at the Corinthian Hotel on Tintinco Island. There will be a short address by Judge J. W. Martin, who is the president of the Pennsylvania Yacht Club; His Excellency, Carl W. Wallenberg, the Swedish Minister; Mr. Hampton L. Carson, Mr. Thomas Willing Balch, Dr. Henry Lynch Montgomery and Dr. Henry Lynch Montgomery of the American Scandinavian Foundation. There will also be a short recital of Swedish folk songs and national anthems, and tea will be served at 5 o'clock.

Mr. Randall Morgan is chairman of the Entertainment Committee of the Dames and Mrs. C. Howard Collet of the Entertainment Committee of the Genealogical Society.

TOMORROW we will have the first of the annual big shows, the Wynnewood Pony and Dog Show, at the Billie Cochran place. In every one who is aiding or taking part in some way will come anyhow to see the fun. Most of the younger children will be in the pony show, and the models at the Fashion Show; for you'll have to admit that such girls as Peggy Thayer, Peggy Dallett, Missie Stewart and Sara Deane—who will be among the many manikins—are hard to beat. Of course, we all hope it won't rain, but even if it does the fair has been insured against it. Doesn't that sound "swell"?

I SAW Mrs. Harrison Canon yesterday and she was wearing a very good-looking black crepe dress made with long panels on the sleeves and lined with white crepe. The sleeves of the dress were slashed and lined with white crepe, too. With it she wore a black poke bonnet faced with cherry-colored straw and edged with black and white satin. Long loops of the cherry satin fell from the brim on one side. Doesn't that sound striking? It was very becoming to Mrs. Canon, too.

WELL, I've just heard of another engagement, to be announced soon. The girl has golden hair and is extremely clever and the man is tall and very good looking. I can't say another word, because then you might know exactly who they are. It is to be announced in a week or so, so you'll have to wait till then.

NANCY WYNNE.

SELL JUDGE PATTERSON'S LIBRARY FOR $23,688

618 Items in Collection Disposed of in New York Auction

The private library of Judge Patterson was sold at auction in New York yesterday for a total of $23,688.25. The collection numbered 618 items, including rare works collected by the jurist over a period of twenty years.

George A. Baker & Co., of this city, paid $1000, the highest price of the sale, for the rare first issue of the first edition of "Robinson Crusoe," which was printed in London in 1719. Another first edition, which brought a high figure was Goldsmith's "The Vicar of Wakefield," the genuine first issue in original calf, with case by Riviere, which was acquired by a dealer, for $700.

Abraham Lincoln's law book, "A Treatise on the Limitations of Actions at Law and Suits in Equity and Admiralty," by J. K. Angel, was sold for $650, going to the same buyer.

An example of the earliest European type printing, the twenty-seven-line fragment of "Odnatus," printed by

Removes Hairy Growth Without Pain or Bothers

(Modes of Today)

It is not necessary to use a painful process to remove hairy growth. For with a little delicate hair cream, the skin is entirely free from these bothersome protrusions. To remove hair, use a little hair cream with a little powdered talcum powder. Spread this on the hairy surface and in about 2 minutes run a wash cloth over the hairy area. The hair is removed and the skin is left soft and smooth. To get real delatons, Mix cream is wanted. Adv.
